Rates for 2020.

While the net contribution for childcare in 2019 either remained the same or was lower for many parents, it is set to rise in 2020. One of the reasons for this is the government's decision to minimally index a percentage of the hourly rate of childcare that is reimbursed. Another factor is the expected wage increases within the 2020 CLA for childcare. This change has a major impact on the total cost of childcare. Taken together these developments mean that the net contribution to childcare for parents will be higher on average in 2020 than in 2019. The exact amount you will pay for childcare depends on your personal situation..

Our products.

As of 1 January 2020, our product range will change: from then on, new customers can choose between a 52-weeks or a 40-weeks package for day care and after-school care. The products 'flexible childcare' and 'pre-school childcare' remain unchanged. You can read about what this change means for you as a customer on the next page.

What does this change mean for you as a customer?

Are you currently using a product that will no longer be part of our range from 1 January 2020? No problem: you may continue using your current childcare product until there is a financial change* in your contract. Then there will be a switch to the new product range.

Skar Product Range 2020.

From 1 January 2020, Skar is streamlining its range to the following products:

Day care:

- 52-weeks day care package
- 40-weeks day care package
- flexible product

After-school childcare:

- 52-weeks after-school childcare package
- 40-weeks after-school childcare package
- flexible product
- pre-school childcare

This means that the 41-weeks package, 46-weeks package and 52-weeks plus package are no longer part of the 2020 product range.

*Financial changes to the childcare contract are:

- A change in the number of hours of childcare
- A change in the type of childcare

Supplementary childcare rates 2020.

1. The national standard is the standard amount used to calculate the childcare allowance of the Tax and Customs Administration.
2. A whole day of childcare runs from 7.30 to 18.30 hours. Some locations offer the possibility for extra care from 7.00 for a fee. Ask about the possibilities at your own childcare location.
3. It is also possible to take half a day of childcare. A morning part lasts from 07.30 to 13.00 hours and an afternoon part lasts from 13.00 to 18.30 hours.
4. In the case of flexible care, you take at least four half-days a month. We need to know which half-days these are before the 15th of the previous month. Only then will the requested half-day periods be guaranteed. You can find the rules for flexible childcare on our website.

Supplementary after-school childcare rates 2020.

1. The amount that you ultimately pay for your childcare is lower than the monthly rate as stated. This is because – if you qualify for this – you will receive an allowance for childcare costs from the Tax and Customs Administration: childcare allowance. This supplement is partially calculated using the national standard. The national standard for after-school care is € 7.02. Use the calculation tool on our website to get an indication of your net childcare costs.
2. This monthly rate is based on the school closing time of 15.15 hours. Your actual monthly rate depends on the closing time of your school. Childcare is invoiced up to a school closing time of 18:30.
3. This monthly rate is based on a school closing time of 12.00 hours. Your actual monthly rate depends on the closing time of your school. Childcare is invoiced up to a school closing time of 18:30.
4. In the case of flexible care, you take at least two half-days a month. Please let us know before the 15th of the previous month which half-days you want to buy. Only then will the requested half-day periods be guaranteed. You can find the rules for flexible childcare on our website.
